Fund Manager Commentary

An extremely volatile month to begin the year ultimately ending with some strong gains across some of the markets and sectors that have lagged over the past few years. The S&P added 1.4% driven for once largely by non tech sectors. The Nasdaq added 1.2% but the smaller companies Russel 2000 added 5.3% as companies more exposed to an improvement in GDP growth outperformed. Elsewhere Japan added 2.6%, China 1.8% and Europe 1.5%. Some of the emerging markets however were very strong with Korea adding 17% and Brazil 12%. By sector Energy was the stand out adding 9.1% as the oil price rallied strongly on potential military action against Iran. Consumer Discretionary rose 8% on optimism that loose monetary and fiscal policy will boost consumer spending, particularly as tax rebates arrive shortly. Materials rose 5.7% as metals across the board rallied on a combination of a weak dollar and some supply constraints, although a significant sell off on the last day of the month suggested much of the recent move higher has been speculative so subject to heightened levels of volatility. On the downside along with a rotation out of technology financials fell 5% despite strong numbers from the banks. The them across the month really was one of selling the past year or two's winners and rotating into those stocks and sectors that have lagged.

NUJOOM Aggressive Fund ended the month of January up 1.7% with the NAV per Share at 114.8. As of January end, 45% of the portfolio was allocated to Sukuks, followed by 31% Equities, 14% in Private Equity and 10% in cash. Our Sukuk portfolio has an average coupon of 6.2% p.a. and a YTM of over 6.3%, with c.65% of this portfolio being investment grade. We have deployed 14% in Private Equity in a PharmaTech company that provides cold storage logistics solutions.
